I give Writers in the Schools (WITS), a program of Seattle Arts and Lectures (SAL), a literary non-profit, the following royalty-free rights: the right to audio and/or video record, publish, broadcast, distribute, and otherwise use writing produced by my child through the WITS program, including use in excerpted or condensed versions, in print, digital and all other forms of media; the right to use my child's name, photographs or other images of my child involved in WITS and biographical information in all forms of media.

The rights granted to WITS include use for educational, editorial, promotional or any other lawful purpose, including for the purpose of promoting and/or raising funds for WITS and other SAL programs. I understand that all rights will revert to my child upon publication.

I understand that WITS will use reasonable efforts to include a credit for my child (as his or her name appears below) with any use of my child's work or performance and to provide me or my child with a copy of any finished product containing my child's work or performance. I understand that WITS will not share this information with anyone.
